Forecast for Today.
Fresh trades, generally fine weather with possible showers in the valley.

The Chinese seem to be executing a Boer finish.

The campaign will be warm enough before it is over, unless all signs fail.

There will be great interest here in the race of the Australia and the America Maru to San Francisco.

There are many old "war horses" in this year of grace, 1900, but the real war horse of the era is the Texas mule.

The Elks of the United States have contributed nearly $75,000 to the lodge at Galveston, or such of them as survived the flood.

It is the duty of every man having the good of the Territory at heart to register. Remember, if you are not registered you cannot vote.

Republicans are showing great activity in every district in the Territory and if good work counts for anything in this Territory the republicans will control the first legislature with a good majority.

Nothing like having a high-sounding name. "The Coming Men of America" sounds big enough for almost anything, including coming governors, senators and so on. There may be a president among them even now.

"As Honolulu goes, so goes Hawaii," must be the slogan of the republican workers. Get out every possible vote for the party here and carry this city and there will be no question about the rest of the Territory.

Thomas Brackett Reed, once speaker of the house of representatives and a power in republican politics, is suiting in his New York tent. He declares he would rather say "Gentlemen of the jury" than "Friends and fellow citizens."

Let's see, did some one a short time ago say something about keeping secret the resignation of a judge until the said resignation had reached Washington together with endorsements for the appointment of the judge's successor?

There will be a great rally of republicans at a meeting at the Makiki baseball grounds tonight, held under the auspices of the precinct club of the Second precinct of the Fourth district. Every republican in the Fourth district should attend this meeting.

The greatest need of Honolulu today is a cable connecting Hawaii with the mainland. Honolulu will always be a provincial town until the cable comes. Then it will suddenly become a part of the great throbbing world that feels the pulse beat of electric communication.

Following in the line of the opinion given by Judge Humphreys of the Circuit Court the Supreme Court held yesterday that in order to register and vote in the first election of Hawaii one must have resided in the Territory one year and in the precinct three months.

WANTED—A nice young man fresh from a law school on the mainland, for a nice, easy position with very little work; salary $1,800 a year. No previous residence in the Territory required. Incumbent can continue a journey to the Orient at any time. Address the Attorney General of Hawaii.

Every citizen interested in the advancement of the city and of the young people will note with pride the great progress being made by the Young Woman's Christian association. This worthy society does a vast amount of good in the world and it is most gratifying that the one in Honolulu is so flourishing and prosperous.

It has been definitely decided that the national capital centennial shall be held on the 12th of December next, says the Buffalo Commercial. It will commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the city of Washington as the seat of the federal government and will be an occasion of national importance and interest. The provisional plans which have been approved by President McKinley provide, briefly, for a morning reception to the visiting governors of various states at the White House, a military pageant along Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol, where patriotic and other suitable exercises will be held, the whole to be followed by a brilliant reception in the evening. The general committee includes the governors of all the states, joint committees of the senate and house of representatives and citizens of the District of Columbia. This will be the last of the great centennials of events in the formative period of the nation's history. The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of our first and most extensive territorial expansion, President Jefferson's "Louisiana purchase," in 1803, will be the first of a new series. This memorable transaction will be observed in various ways and particularly by a great centennial exposition at St. Louis.

Monday was one of the hottest October days ever known in Honolulu. The thermometer climbed to the 87 degree point in the afternoon at the weather station presided over by Professor Curtis J. Lyon. This is within one degree of the highest recorded all summer and Professor Lyon said last night after a hurried look over his records for five or six years back that he believed it equaled the highest ever recorded here for the month of October. The dew point was 63.5 and the relative humidity 75. At the same time there was a very light south wind with a velocity of only two miles an hour, which accounts for the afternoon being so oppressive to sweltering humanity. Yesterday showed a great relief, the maximum temperature being only 83, while the dew point had dropped two points and the relative humidity five points. Last night the dew point was down to 63, which accounted for the cool, refreshing night.

On September 10 Clara Barton wired Governor Sayers of Texas as follows: "Do you need the Red Cross in Texas? We are ready." That banner of the Red Cross is one that signals to the world the better days that are to come. It means that mankind has begun to draw nearer to each other; it sheds mercies over the battlefield, and where the wounded and sick fill the hospitals of armies, where armies march, or where famine and pestilence claim their prey. The above tender was nothing less than to follow in the wake of the cyclone and where the encroaching ocean had reached forward upon the shore and overthrow a city. That Red Cross badge has become a thing for men to reverence, a tie to draw hearts and sections and peoples together.

Uncle Sam's Boys.

He has a grim line around his lips
And a stern light in his eye.
His stock in trade is the right to kill
And the counter right to die.
No sooner is the one fight done
Than another fight's to do.
He has one love that will never fail—
The old red, white and blue.

For he's one of Uncle Sam's boys,
A-marching around the earth.
He has no time for sentiment,
And scarcely time for mirth.
They never ask a question,
Never answer "Yes" or "No,"
But shoulder arms when the order comes.

And touch the cap and go.

He blisters 'neath the tropic sun,
He freezes in the snows.
He marches, with unwearied tread,
Where'er Old Glory goes.
He does not ask an audience
For what he has to do—
One love he holds in his hero heart—
The old red, white and blue.

For he's one of Uncle Sam's boys,
Away across the sea.
A-fighting for his only love,
Wherever he may be.
They never ask a question,
Never answer "Yes" or "No,"
But strike the tents when the order comes.
Then touch the cap and go.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation of the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Territory of Hawaii.
